PRIVACY NOTICE – Information Sharing using EMIS

Your registered GP Practice along with other Healthcare Providers create and keep records about the healthcare and treatment you receive.

The different Organisations in this area each hold separate records about you (but only if they have provided you with care or treatment). Together we have been looking at ways to make it easier to share important information about you to better support your care or treatment.

In future we will be using an electronic system known as EMIS which enables us to view and share information about you at the point when you are receiving care. This sharing will normally only take place when you have been asked and have agreed to it happening but there are some exceptions to this, for example in emergency situations the person in charge of your care may need to make the decision to access your records but is unable to ask you first. A record of this will be kept.

Each Organisation taking part will still be responsible for the safe keeping of the records they create and hold about you, including providing access should you wish to make a request to see them.

If you would like to know more please ask the person providing your care or treatment to tell you when you see them.
